

Dues Calculation Information

The information regarding full membership dues is as follows:

Non-profit organizations should base their assessed dues on their total annual media-related expenses for the most recently closed fiscal year. For example, this can include but is not limited to:

- advertising budget, including digital marketing, in-house advertising staff, marketing contractors, media buys, such as radio and TV spots, display ads in magazines and newspapers, banner ads on websites
- copywriting
- graphic design
- lead generation
- broadcast production
- creation of materials
- promotions, including social media, mobile and on-line and related website development
- direct mail promotion

For-profit organizations should base assessed dues on their total annual media-related revenue generated from their Christian media-related clients, for the most recently closed fiscal year.

Members advise us of their correct dues level based on this information, i.e. they self-report what their dues level should be.

Non-profit organizations: For example, based on the chart below if your total annual media-related expenses are from $0-$150,000 your annual dues would be $585; if your total annual media-related expenses are from $150,001-$250,000 your annual dues would be $1,177, and so on.

For-profit: For example, based on the chart below if your total annual media-related revenue generated from your Christian media-related clients is from $0-$150,000 your annual dues would be $585; if your total annual media-related revenue generated from your Christian media-related clients is from $150,001-$250,000 your annual dues would be $1,177, and so on.
