Addressing Corporate Threats to Free Speech

WHEREAS	Monitoring and opposing threats to free speech is a key element of NRB’s mandate, and NRB has been a historic advocate for viewpoint diversity and freedom of expression;
WHEREAS	Under Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act of 1996, social media companies derive powerful protections against liability for user-published content, including wide latitude to moderate, restrict, and suppress content;
WHEREAS	Today, the ability of social media companies to assert overly restrictive content policies is just one of numerous factors threatening free speech and viewpoint diversity in the digital age;
WHEREAS	Collusion between powerful advertising corporations to initiate back-channel speech restrictions under the guise of concepts like “brand safety” and “transparency” represents ideological warfare against speakers and programmers and disintegration of the relationship between advertisers and consumers;
WHEREAS	The threat of punitive limits or restrictions of access to monetary exchange platforms, as well as denial of insurance or other services, threaten the ability of Christian communicators and other dissenting voices to conduct business;
WHEREAS	“Disinformation” tracking groups engineer supposedly impartial models for strategic ad placement that, in reality, blacklist and demonetize conservative media;
WHEREAS	Any group organized around orthodox Christian teaching risks being characterized as a “hate group” or engaging in “hate speech,” an allegation aimed at doing permanent reputational harm and repelling business and opportunity from the accused;
WHEREAS	Conservative and religious voices face an increasing threat of dealing with hostile vendors, such as event venues, production services, live feed operators, payment processors, ticket sale platforms, or others who break or cancel contracts or refuse services due to public pressure or intolerance toward the client’s point of view;
WHEREAS	The U.S. government did, during the COVID-19 pandemic, violate the First Amendment by pressuring and coercing corporate actors to suppress certain content in order to limit the reach of independent analysis and cover for failed government policy;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	Recognizing the need to rectify the imbalance of power between Big Tech platforms and their users, NRB supports a reexamination of S. 230 in light of its original intent and the use of a legislative vehicle to sunset or establish a reauthorization date for S. 230;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB urges that all possible methods of investigation, public pressure, litigation, and Congressional oversight be used to address consumer harms and possible violations of the law caused by collusive corporate action.

Applying Wisdom in Use of Artificial Intelligence and Emerging Technology, 2025

WHEREAS	The use of artificial intelligence expands across industries, is accessible to all internet users, and continues to uproot traditional means of work, data collection, and interaction through digital platforms;
WHEREAS	The public conversation surrounding AI involves concerns about the nature of truth, personhood, and the role of artificial intelligence as an arbiter of information, as well as the danger of using AI to develop and proliferate obscene and explicit content;
WHEREAS	Governing bodies and industry leaders lack consensus on how this technology should be regulated and applied;
WHEREAS	The use of AI across industries heralds significant benefits for output and efficiency, while creating new hazards such as the replacement of human workers, the unauthorized replication of images and likenesses, the origination of misleading information, and the risk of overreliance;
WHEREAS	The increased role of emerging technology in industry, public, and private life poses significant ethical and practical questions that require thoughtful and prudent consideration from a Christian perspective;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB urges Christians to exercise responsibility and wisdom in utilizing AI and other emerging technologies, to acknowledge the limitations of technological enhancements and interventions, and to emphasize that human redemption and transformation are spiritual goods, not products of technology.
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	That Christians must oppose efforts to use AI technology for anti-human and immoral purposes and refute notions of AI personhood, which are contrary to clearly defined principles in Scripture of mankind's unique creation in the image of God.

Condemning Global Antisemitism

WHEREAS	NRB maintains a robust and enduring relationship with the Jewish people and the nation of Israel and honors Israel's role in the unfolding of the scriptural promises of God;
WHEREAS	There has been a sharp rise in acts and incitements of violence toward the Jewish people, especially through violent and unlawful demonstrations on college campuses;
WHEREAS	The goal of public anti-Israel demonstrations is to exert political pressure to persuade the U.S. government to reverse its longstanding policy of supporting Israel;
WHEREAS	Favorable portrayals of antisemitic protest activity have manipulated and misinformed the public, leading to the inaccurate belief that violence, incitement of violence, vandalism, trespassing, and destruction of property in the name of this cause are protected forms of speech, rather than crimes;
WHEREAS	Christian communicators play an important role in informing the public of the truth and have a unique platform to educate their audience on modern forms of antisemitism according to accurate and contemporary standards;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB urges Christians to vocally condemn the escalating hostility toward the Jewish people and the nation of Israel, to reject all ideologies of hatred and violent animus, and to advocate peaceful discourse.
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB warns against the danger and societal harm of false media narratives and urges integrity and moral clarity in reporting.

Endorsing Family-First Principles in Media

WHEREAS	The ever-increasing ubiquity and accessibility of consumer technology has led to frequent and concentrated digital media use and consumption by children and teenagers, including access to devices that act as a marketplace for myriad goods and services;
WHEREAS	Children are at risk of being exposed to unlimited obscene, explicit, and age-inappropriate content online, which may cause trauma, confusion, and harm;
WHEREAS	Access to age-inappropriate interactive communications platforms further exposes children to the dangers of harassment, predation, coercion, and addiction;
WHEREAS	Some online platforms such as TikTok have brazenly neglected the most basic safeguards for underage users in order to harvest data, accruing untold numbers of “age unknown” users who are children accessing adult content;
WHEREAS	The devices that children use to access the Internet – phones, tablets, and computers – are portals to an unlimited number of apps and websites that are not individually tailored to protect children;
WHEREAS	Many applications lack or offer insufficient parental control features, resulting in unrestricted access to age-inappropriate content;
WHEREAS	Lawmakers at all levels of government have opened dialogue on this issue and are pursuing policies to better protect children’s safety online;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB urges parents to take primary responsibility for the safety of their own children online, to avoid giving children independent access to powerful internet-connected personal devices, and to educate children at home to practice caution and discernment online;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB calls on state and Federal lawmakers and technology developers to examine full-stack approaches to improving the safety of children online, such as device-level age verification, improving the accuracy of app store ratings, creating better child-safety functionality for shared devices, and more;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB calls on all Christian communicators, developers, and entrepreneurs to create and innovate safe, robust, and enriching alternatives, including devices, apps, and entertainment, that offer families and youth a positive, safe, and edifying experience online.

Maintaining Access for Christian Broadcasters in the Communications Marketplace

WHEREAS	Innovation and change in the media marketplace present new challenges and opportunities for Christian communicators;
WHEREAS	The rise of digital media, myriad audio options for radio listeners, the decline of AM radio technology in new electric vehicles, proposed changes to standard time, and other factors are challenging the survival of AM radio;
WHEREAS	The introduction of streaming services has revolutionized the video marketplace, and industry standards have failed to address the uneven playing field for independent programmers seeking carriage on virtual multichannel video programming distributors, resulting in the loss or denial of carriage for many Christian programmers;
WHEREAS	Any new performance royalties will increase financial and operational strain on local radio broadcasters;
WHEREAS	Longstanding restrictions such as the Johnson Amendment, as well as generalized hostility to the Christian faith in media and culture, have limited the free expression of Christian communicators, nonprofits, and churches;
WHEREAS	NRB supports such legislative and regulatory efforts as will mitigate the aforementioned negative impacts on religious broadcasters and generally improve access for small, local, and independent media; and will pursue litigation to defend such First Amendment freedoms in the courts;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB recommits to collaboration and engagement with the presidential administration, the 119 th Congress, other policymakers, and private-sector industry leaders to represent the perspective of religious broadcasters and develop both governmental and private sector solutions to help secure a future of robust access to the communications marketplace for faith-driven communicators.

Opposing Weaponization of the Federal Government, 2025

WHEREAS	NRB has historically and continually devoted itself to protecting First Amendment guarantees of speech, religion, and press, and to monitoring and opposing threats to free speech and the free exercise of religion;
WHEREAS	The power of the federal government has been weaponized to deprive individuals of the ability to speak, gather, or do business because of their religious beliefs or the incompatibility of their beliefs with cultural trends;
WHEREAS	State-sanctioned suppression of a religious viewpoint is in direct conflict with First Amendment guarantees and brings immeasurable damage to the free exercise of these liberties;
WHEREAS	Under the last administration, government officials directly pressured social media companies to limit the visibility of certain viewpoints on their platforms;
WHEREAS	In recent years, the federal government has permitted the expenditure of taxpayer dollars to engage “disinformation” tracking firms that seek to limit the expression of certain viewpoints;
WHEREAS	The flawed Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances (FACE) Act, originally designed to prevent acts of violence and terrorism, has been used to convict, fine, and harshly imprison pro-life Americans for participating in nonviolent protests outside abortion clinics;
WHEREAS	The Johnson Amendment is an unconstitutional burden on the First Amendment freedom of churches and nonprofits to freely express their point of view on candidates, elections, and issues on the ballot; and has long been applied in a discriminatory manner that respects the rights of some, but not of others;
WHEREAS	NRB has joined a complaint challenging the Johnson Amendment’s restrictions on the First Amendment freedoms of nonprofit organizations, including churches in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB opposes all weaponization of the federal government to strike down and silence dissenting viewpoints, maintaining that civil rights liability for constitutional violations should be strictly enforced against any federal government agency that initiates action to deny free speech and equal protection.
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB will do its part through advocacy, litigation, and education to vindicate and affirm the right of every church and religious nonprofit to express what their faith teaches on every issue, including political matters, as is their right and their duty.

Prayer for U.S. President and 119th Congress

WHEREAS	NRB has historically committed to pray for the sitting United States President and members of Congress;

WHEREAS	Scripture provides principles for wise governance by godly leaders and expresses the duties and obligations of God-fearing citizens;
WHEREAS	The Holy Scriptures direct us in I Timothy 2:1-4 that "supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, for kings and all who are in high positions, that we may lead a peaceful and quiet life, godly and dignified in every way. This is good, and it is pleasing in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all people to be saved and to come to knowledge of the truth;"
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB calls on all Christians to commit to both private and public prayer for President Donald J. Trump, Vice President J.D. Vance, Supreme Court Justices, the members of the Cabinet, the U.S. House of Representatives, the U.S. Senate, and other federal authorities and elected leaders, and for the spiritual welfare of the nation.

WHEREAS	NRB, since its founding, has championed religious liberty and opposed the persecution of religious minorities throughout the world;
WHEREAS	Christians across the world do not enjoy the same guarantee of religious liberty provided in America by the First Amendment, but instead face harassment, discrimination, imprisonment, displacement, and death at the hands of hostile governments and violent groups;
WHEREAS	Anti-Christian sentiment is visible in the United States and escalating throughout the world;
WHEREAS	Christians around the world are facing serious persecution, including the Christian population of Armenia, known as the first Christian nation, who have endured persecution for centuries and continues to face displacement, destruction, and ethnic and cultural cleansing due to Azerbaijani aggression;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB calls for the immediate release of the hostages taken by Hamas;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED	NRB calls on all Christians to pray for the spiritual and physical welfare of all in the region and embrace a vision of peace for the Middle East and an end to deadly warfare.
